

KLOVE provides the educational and inspirational music I enjoy listening to throughout the day. It provides a safe and nonoffensive alternative for my children. If this programming were to be replaced by something secular or vulgar to our tastes, it would leave a spiritual void in my family and possible be harmful to my children's emotional and spiritual development.